Holdup Man Laughed Into Trap

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The would-be robber walked into a branch of the Girard Trust Corn Exchange Bank Tuesday, tossed a paper bag at teller George March and ordered:

"Fill this up."

"He wants me to fill this up," March chuckled to a bank official standing nearby.

The man was stunned. He ran from the bank. Two guards caught him just outside the door.

John D. Called 'Fiddling Nero'

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (UPI)— A member of the Newfoundland legislature, P. J. Canning, described prime minister Diefenbaker last night as the "fiddling Nero of the 20th century" when commenting on the federal government's refusal to send additional RCMP reinforcements to help maintain law and order in the present labor crisis.

Defending the recent legislation decertifying the IWA local, charging the strike was "organized, planned and abetted by underground gangsters, hoodlums, murdering maniacs, bullies of a foreign nation, whose gangs have blackened American history down through the years."

GRAND FALLS, Nfld. (CP) —The IWA has assigned "a large group of men" to guard its office at nearby Bishop's Falls, damaged by unidentified raiders early Wednesday.

* * *

OTTAWA (CP) — Progressive Conservative James A. McGrath said yesterday he doesn't fully concur with the actions taken by the federal cabinet in connection with the Newfoundland labor dispute.

MONTREAL (UPI) — A Newfoundland Liberal MP John W. Pickersgill, former immigration minister, said yesterday the Newfoundland government request for RCMP reinforcements was legal and justified and Ottawa had no alternative but to accede to the request.

Saved Once by Farmer Son

Doctor Chokes On Food, Dies

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A physician saved four months ago when his farmer son operated on him with a paring knife, choked to death Tuesday night on a piece of steak.

Dr. Charles A. Olson, 71, was eating dinner with his wife, a niece, Mrs. Leo Neinast, and her husband, when he began to choke. Mrs. Neinest tried in vain to dislodge the food by slapping his back. He ws dead by the time a police surgeon arrived.

Last November he was eating dinner at the home of his son, Robert, when he began choking on a piece of ham. Robert, assisted by a brother, Charles, performed an emergency trachreotomy, using a a paring knife to cut an opening in his father's windpipe.

The barrel of a fountain pen was inserted in the incision to serve as a breathing tube. Dr. Olson had made a complete recovery and resumed his practice.

In the Legislature

Operators Broke Cemetery Rules

Operations at Hatley Memorial Gardens, Colwood, and an associated company at Nanaimo during part of 1958 were carried on with little regard for any cemetery regulations, says the Public Utilities Commission report, tabled in the legislature yesterday.

Both Hatley Memorial Gardens and the Nanaimo cemetery, Cedar Valley Memorial Gardens, are subject to direction on many matters from a Winnipeg office, the report says.

"Although expressing their dislike of cemetery regulations and of the Cemetery Act as amended, the operators stated that they wished to co-operate with the commission and comply with the regulations," it continues.

"During the latter half of 1958, the commission's accountants have had to spend a great deal of their time in endeavoring to get the company to bring its operations within the cemetery regulations. The work has been made much more difficult due to the fact that on practically all important matters approval must be obtained from the operator's office in Winnipeg."

The provincial government is seeking authority to control the use of outboard motor boats on B.C. lakes.

Recreation Minister Earle Westwood said yesterday an approach had already been made to the federal department of transport, which has authority over the lakes.

There is a definite lack of accommodation for MLAs of the various political parties in the legislative buildings, said Randolph Harding (CCF, Kaslo-Slocan).

He complained that members have to do most of their work in hotel rooms where they stay.

Planning Panel

A panel discussion of social assistance will be the feature of a meeting Thursday of the South Vancouver Island branch of the B.C. Association of Social Workers, at 8 p.m. in the city health and welfare centre, 1947 Cook.
